HERE KITTY, KITTY, KITTY...

This cat project was inspired by a talented artist named Laurel Burch, who sadly passed away recently. She had a wonderful style of drawing abstract cats with large eyes that touched each other.

STEP 1. Distribute drawing paper to students, and ask them to make one dot (in pencil) in the middle, and another on either side as per the diagram. The 3 dots are connected to make the eyes.

STEP 2. A triangle nose is added, nose lines and mouth.

STEP 3. Lastly, the outside of the head is drawn around the head.

STEP 4. Give the students a black Sharpie marker to trace all their lines.

STEP 5. Distribute oil pastels and encourage the students to use unusual colors to fill in their cat and background.
